Record Number Register for 1967 Fall Term

RAIN IS JUST ONE of the many necessary evils involved in registration. Over 1900 students, the largest number ever for Harding, enrolled for the fall semester. — PHOTO BY TERRY

By Lynn McCauley

Eighteen hundred seventy-six students had enrolled when registration lines closed Thursday evening Sept. 7, for the fall term to make this the largest enrollment ever for Harding. Despite lines extending back to the administration building and heavy downpour, registration proceeded with greater ease than in any previous year, according to Dr. Joseph Pryor, dean of the school.

It is anticipated that the registration mark will exceed 1920 when all the late arrivals are registered. If such is the case, that will mean there is about a 10% increase in enrollment over last year.

Although the freshman class of 588 is smaller than that of last year, the upper level classes have increased in size as compared to other years. There are: 478 sophomores, 445 juniors and 334 seniors. Graduate and unclassified students number 31.

More Males

Harding females stand a better chance at dating than ever before with only 897 women as compared to 979 males. The ratio is something like 1.09 men for every one female. Despite extremely long lunch and supper lines, Pattie Cobb Cafeteria is feeding more than 925. The American Heritage cafeteria will be catering to more than 600.

Since the fall term of 1964, the year the present seniors were freshmen, there has been an increase of at least 52.7 percent in the size of the student body. That year 1228 were enrolled. Needless to say, the increase in the number of students is just one of the many changes Harding has undergone in the past three years.

Belles & Beaux Rate USO Tour

The Harding College Belles and Beaux received confirmation last spring of their selection as the entertainment group to make a USO tour to the Far East. The trip will begin January 8 and will extend approximately ten weeks, during which the group will perform for service men at Army bases overseas.

Fifteen members of the 1966-67 Belles and Beaux group who toured with the A Cappella Chorus giving performances of their "America in Song" showcase will make the tour. Among the performers will be sopranos Joan Ritchie, Jan Chesshir and Connie Taylor; altos Sheri Tipps, Patty Bowman, Beverly Holeman and Jean Lewis; tenors Kenneth Davis, Jr., Larry Griffith and Bruce Stidham; and basses Bob West, Jim Green, Mark Miller and Darrell Chitty. Cynthia Hawkins will be accompanying the group on the piano.

SA Council Holds Pre-School Conference

Before the fall migration of more than 1900 students onto the Harding campus could commence, the 1967-68 Student Association Council met to plan its program to direct student activity through the busy autumn season. Arriving two days before the annual rush, the officers and class representatives arranged their schedules to include planning sessions, introductions and new-student mixers.

Mike O'Neal, SA president, opened the conference on Friday, Sept. 1, by calling for an enthusiastic response to the year's challenges from each council member. He then told the group about the little-publicized work of the SA through the 1967 summer session, and discussed the finances and book-work that keep the SA machinery oiled and running smoothly.

How could the student government make it easy for the novice student to adjust to campus life? This was the next problem, and the council solved it with plans for an information booth, get-acquainted mixers, bell-hop service for burdened travelers, and transportation for students arriving at bus or train terminals.

The council next acted on motions to set up an entertainment chairman to keep a file of student talent, to study the possibility of a "liberal arts lecture series," to improve the quality of chapel devotionals, and to charter campus clubs.

Dr. Ganus spoke briefly to the council on Saturday of the SA's role in the '67-'68 school year. "Together we can catch a glimpse of Harding as a goal, as a 'magnificent obsession,'" he said. President Ganus also emphasized the strength of a co-operative spirit: "Where students can work together with faculty and administration, there is progress."

Robert Dumm to Conduct Workshops, Present Lyceum Program Sept. 22, 23

Robert Dumm, pianist, composer, teacher and for 5 years Dean of the Boston Conservatory of Music, will present the first Piano Workshop ever held on the Harding campus on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22 and 23, in the American Heritage Auditorium.

He will also be featured as guest artist for the first Lyceum attraction of the school year on Friday night, Sept. 22 at 8 p.m., in the College Auditorium. He will present a unique lecture-recital combination, entitled, "The Unknown Mozart".

Dumm's piano workshops have won him a nationwide following and many return engagements. His recent annual tours reached 35 cities and 20 states, including college campuses, such as Michigan State University, Catholic University, Ball State University, East Kentucky State University and others. Pianists and teachers over the state, and from the Memphis area, are expected to attend.

Junior Workshop

An unusual feature of this workshop will be the Junior Workshop Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23, for students eight years and older. Dumm's power to arouse and sustain students' interest in music study makes these workshops popular with parents and teachers.

Harding students and faculty members are able to attend any or all of the workshop free of charge. Tuition for visitors will be $10 a day. The Junior Workshop tuition is $2. Registration each day begins at 8:30 a.m. in the Heritage Center.

Friday morning from 9:30 to 12 o'clock, Dumm's topics will be "Mozart's Style", and "The Piano Teacher as Critic." Friday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock he will demonstrate teaching of several students at different levels, followed by a session on new and teachable repertory from 3 to 4 o'clock. Saturday morning he will discuss "The Presentation of a New Piece."

The Junior Workshop for eight to 12 year-olds will begin at 1 p.m., that for 12 years and older at 2:30, followed by another repertory session of both traditional and modern piano music.

Piano School

Dumm holds degrees from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, where he and his wife founded a piano school that enrolled 350 when they left for Boston in 1958. As a father of two, he has special insight into the way today's children learn, (Continued on page 3)

PIANIST ROBERT DUMM, once Dean of the Boston Conservatory of Music, will conduct the first piano workshop ever conducted on the Harding campus, Sept. 22 and 23.

Dale Work Wins Alpha Chi Honor

Dale Eugene Work, Harding senior from Trenton, Mich., is the recipient of the $150 Region II Alpha Chi Scholarship for 1967-68.

Work was selected as the scholarship recipient from 16 students nominated from 11 chapters in Region II, by a committee of faculty members meeting at Hendrix College in Conway.

Alpha Chi is a national honor scholarship society with 67 chapters in colleges and universities in 21 states. Region II is comprised of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Mississippi.

After graduating from Trenton High School, Work enrolled in Harding on a Ford Foundation Scholarship. He has maintained a 4.00 grade-point average during his first three years of college. Work plans to get his B.S. degree from Harding next spring.

with a double major in chemistry and mathematics.

In college he has been active in intramural sports, has served as vice-president of the sophomore class, and has served as a laboratory assistant in chemistry. He was selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities in the fall of 1966 and to membership in Alpha Chi in the spring of 1967. During the 1967-68 school year, Work will serve as president of the Arkansas Eta Chapter of Alpha Chi.

Placement Sign-up Necessary

All seniors and graduate students who have not registered before with the placement office are asked to do so Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 18 and 19. Seniors who plan to graduate in January, June or August of 1968 are required to register.

On Monday the registration will be held at 6:30 p.m. in Bible Building Room 200. All seniors or graduate students whose last names begin with A-J are to register then.

On Tuesday, all seniors or graduate students whose last names begin with K-Z are to register beginning at 6:30 p.m. in Room 200 of the Bible Building. No fee will be charged for those registering these two days.

If it is impossible for those affected to register Monday or Tuesday, two late sessions are planned. One will be Thursday, Sept. 21, at 6:30 p.m. in the American Studies Building, Room 114. A fee of $1.00 will be charged.

Friday, Sept. 22, late students may register at the beginning of each class period in Room 111 of the American Studies Building. A $2.00 fee will be charged.

Those registering will be asked to give names and addresses of five persons to be used as references. Two or three of these should be Harding professors. Also needed will be the complete addresses, including ZIP codes, of the other references.

Bison Editorial Policy Presented; Student Contributions Welcomed

Every newspaper regardless of whether it is a large city daily, a national monthly or a college weekly published in a small Arkansas town near the foothills of the Ozarks should ethically have an editorial policy. The paper should present to its readers some basic guidelines and beliefs on which it is to operate.

A college newspaper is unique in that it serves some of the most alert minds to be found anywhere in the nation. College students as a rule have active minds which can generally distinguish between good and bad quality in a publication.

Therefore it shall be the policy of the 1967-68 Bison in its news pages, to provide this group with an interesting, well-rounded, news-laden medium. The news pages should serve to keep the students informed and up to date on campus and campus-related events.

Editorial Page for Ideas

Separate from the news pages, the editorial page will be to provide the students and faculty an area for the exchange of ideas, and for the expression of opinion. However, the Bison will not become a scandal sheet where individuals can unleash bitter attacks on others.

No one should be stifled of the right of expressing a legitimate thought. It is a very important part of our American way of living that our citizens should have the right of expression — until that right infringes upon the rights and privileges of others.

Student contributions such as letters are welcomed by the Bison as long as the comments are constructive. All letters will be considered and those which the editor feels timely, of interest, and of sufficient value to occupy space will be presented.

Publisher is Harding

Technically, the publisher of this newspaper is Harding College — its faculty, its administration, its students. The paper is wholly supported by students and advertisers. Naturally, the paper should reflect the ideas of its publisher.

Too, it should be the policy of a paper to work in harmony with its publisher. This too will be our aim. However, since the publisher is composed of so diversified a group and since it would be hard to satisfy the whims of every individual, it shall be the policy of this paper to exemplify the ideas and ideals set forth in Christian living, by the integrity of man, and characteristic of the place man holds as a free being, capable of reasoning.

Silence Golden in Rush For Knowledge

Students on college campuses throughout the nation are participating in what could be called, "The Rush for Knowledge." It has become necessary for today's youth, in order to hold tomorrow's jobs, to gain an advanced education.

Thus our nation's colleges and universities are packed with students wanting to learn. Square-footage per person on or in campus facilities such as dorms and libraries has dwindled drastically. Harding is no exception. With crowded conditions and with limited study facilities it becomes more necessary than ever to be considerate.

During the "Rush of '67" silence will be more golden than ever. Quiet study conditions are necessary for the advanced learning required for persons to enter the specialized world of tomorrow.

So remember to be ultra silent in study areas and if one feels that the tensions are enough to make one scream, let one scream. But let one do so quietly.

— D. M.

Phase II

A child fears the darkness. He cannot see his enemies, whether real or imagined. Therefore, in blindness and ignorance, he fears.

A man fears not the darkness, but that which is hidden in the light. Hidden by choice, not darkness.

Hidden like a cancer eaten through to the surface; put under clothes and bandages in the light, but secretly, horribly seen at night when the clothes, then the bandages are removed.

And because what the man fears is not hidden in darkness, his fear is much greater than the child's fear. Therefore, the man, seeing and understanding, seeks to hide his fears.

AND IN HIDING THEM, he gives life and growth to that which causes him to be afraid.

What causes him to be afraid? Who is his enemy? A warrior? A despot? A force openly sworn to destroy him?

Foolish man! Your enemy is not bold. He is not branded, red star on forehead. Megatonnage does not describe him. He cannot be measured.

FOR YOUR ENEMY is the enemy from within. The cancer — powerfully, evasively, dreadfully lurking in your society and in yourself.

So powerful as to spread riot, murder and disease of the mind.

So evasive as to spread before our watching without fear.

So dreadful as to destroy the soul of a human being, of a nation.

The enemy is hate, prejudice, ignorance, poverty and their brothers.

AND LIKE GOD'S CREATURES, he reproduces after his kind, a parasite, feeding, multiplying, harbored by the man-host.

"Hurry up please, its time." A man cannot forever keep a cancer. He must kill it, or it will destroy him.

"Hurry up please, its time." Why, sir is the choice so cruel? Is decay sweet? Do you not love life?

AH! THE ANSWER. Don't you know? The cancer, the very thing which you fear most, "in your society and in yourself," it is a part of you, of your society! Like an arm or a tooth. That is why the choice is so cruel.

O'Neal's Letter

Dear Students:

The excitement of the first week is now over, and the campus is beginning to settle down to hard work and study. Although the first week is an especially busy one for the Student Association, our work has hardly begun.

The S.A. had a very full and profitable pre-school conference in which many things were planned to make this year a most enjoyable one. The council is determined to live up to the slogan, "We try harder," in order to make its goals a reality.

The executive council is chosen to represent you and your wishes, and this is exactly what we want it to do. This is impossible, however, unless you tell us your wishes. Please feel free to talk to one of the council members, and especially your class representative, about any problems or projects which you feel will help make Harding a better place to live and learn.

1967-68 can truly be a profitable year if each student does his part in our striving for excellence in all things.

Mike O'Neal
SA President

Cancer In The Light

By David Young

"Hurry up please, its time." Although you fear it, hate it, you also love it, nourish it. Love and nourish the very thing which rots your tissues, decays your grey mater, seeks your destruction. How absurd! How logical!

"Hurry up please, its time." "No! No, I won't let you cut it off!"

"But you must. The rot will kill you."

"I can live with it; accept it. Don't interfere. Leave what is alone."

What is! The brothers! Leave what is . . .

"Hurry up please, its time," The wind, dying.

Hurry up . . . hurry . . . time.

President Ganus Addresses Students

On behalf of the faculty and staff may I extend a very cordial welcome to every one of you. Over 1,900 students have already registered and several will do so in the next few days. It is good to have you former students return from what we hope was a pleasant and profitable summer. We missed you. It is difficult to describe how dead the campus can be without you.

We are also glad to have some 800 freshmen and transfer students join us. Much will be new and different, especially to you freshmen. Many challenges will face you this year. Independence and anonymity may plague you as for the first time apron strings are cut and parental oversight recedes.

MOTHER WON'T BE THERE to encourage personal hygiene or good housekeeping. Her exhortation to "get your homework" will come only by mail or an occasional phone call. She can't counsel on dress and social etiquette or see that you get up for Sunday School. Nevertheless, your parents are deeply interested in you and are praying that this period of transition in your lives will be fruitful. I know because so many of them have talked to me and I have experienced it myself.

THERE MAY BE A TEMPTATION to get lost in numbers, and it's possible. You can break institutional and social rules, miss church or in some other way fail to meet your responsibility but sooner or later it will catch up with you. Regardless of numbers or companions or temptations, determine that you are going to make this year an excellent one by being, saying and doing what you know to be right.

I am proud of the record of Harding's students, their support of the philosophy and regulations of their Alma Mater and their achievements. I only hope that this year will be as successful for you individually and for Harding College. If there is any way that I can be of help to you, please call on me. I am always happy to talk with you. Good luck and have a wonderful year in every way.

Utopia's Rain

By Jim Crawford

Long walks in the rain. Water squishing in torn sneakers.

Friends, but who wants 'em? Hear 'em laugh? Stay away from 'em

Take my word. OK, don't. But when it's all over

You can complain And you also'll take walks in the rain.

Yep. Makes ya think. "A warm summer's night?"

Maybe. "Of the good times?" Only if ya want to.

Makes ya feel good, . . . lonely But free. See a stranger.

"In torn sneakers?" Yep.

Don't retreat to a crowded room, Just keep walking.

"And thinking?" Put your hands in your pockets. Look down at the ground.

"Howcum?" See the droplets in the puddles, that's beauty.

"Really?" Try it. Let the rain lash at your face! Feel!

"Good?" In a sense. Don't worry for a moment

Your heart'll die, I don't really mind it. "Howcum?"

Darkness protects me. "Not hard to find?"

Naw, Only if you want it to be. "But we're all different."

Only think we are. "What if I don't like it?" You'll like it.

"Torn sneakers, huh?" Yep . . .

"At Harding we sing . . ." or so goes the music department's motto. But, if you're caught singing in the halls of the 3rd and 4th floors of the American Heritage Building, a funny little woman will chase you with a vacuum cleaner.

If one happens to live in Cathcart, she doesn't dare whistle or she ends up having an echo from the new dorm. What used to be Grad Doubles is now Grad triples or quadruples, depending on whether or not your third roommate also has a parakeet.

As the Harding housing situation becomes more comical each year, the students seem to become more understanding. Of course, many have been accustomed to having their own room at home, but where else but in a crowded dormitory would one accumulate such local color, such friendship, such a feeling of being in the same boat?

Ice Breaking

This element of crowded accommodations actually helps the timid freshman break the ice. The ice is not only broken, but is ground and crushed in the bargain. Lately, students have been found sleeping everywhere; in the registration line, in the post office line, in the lunch line. . .

Still, the situation is not as bad as everyone would have everyone else think.

Mrs. Barbara Calvert, director of women's housing, boasts that no applications were turned away, and that no students from town were told to stay at home. Boys live in the Stapleton and Berryhill houses while the girls are housed in the American Heritage Center and the Benson House until completion of the new dorm. This time last year found the boys in a similar position.

As the school grows, the housing becomes more of a problem. Usually, the puzzle is always solved by September. If one doesn't like sharing a suite with five girls, two workmen and the morning train whistle, he can always remove the vacancy sign on the student center phone booth.

A Capella Tryouts Conducted; Sixty-five Members Selected

Sixty-five members make up the 1967-68 Harding A Cappella chorus as a result of tryouts last week. Thirty-nine members return from last year with 26 new songsters being added.

Old members include: 1st sopranos: Carol M. Adams, Jan Chesshir, Danette Key, Molly Mason and Rachel Rivers; 2nd sopranos: Maudeen Simon, Susan Teal, Sheri Tipps and

Class Elections Planned; Petitions Due Saturday

SA president Mike O'Neal announces that upperclassmen desiring to run for class office are asked to turn in their petitions no later than 10:00 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16 to elections chairman Bill Howard or to president O'Neal.

These elections for president, vice-president and secretary of the sophomore, junior and senior classes will be held Wednesday, Sept. 20.

Each candidate's petition should contain 25 names from members of the class he or she is running in.

Freshmen elections for president, vice-president and secretary will be held Sept. 27. Also a men's freshmen S.A. representative and a women's freshmen representative will be elected on this date.

Petitions for these positions should be in the SA office on the second floor of the student center no later than 10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 23. Each class officer petition should contain 25 freshmen names. Each SA representative petition must contain 10 freshmen names.

Dorm Construction Progresses

Completion of the New Women's Dormitory, which will house 234 girls, is scheduled for January 1. The facility, located on the west side of the campus, will eliminate much of the need for having three girls in many of the rooms and for housing girls in the American Heritage Center and the Benson House.

To be completed at a cost of $950,000, the dorm will be carpeted throughout the reception room, the halls, and the study lounges located on each of the three floors. The rooms will have tile floors and will be equipped with built-in, metal furniture.

A special feature will be a covered car entrance for all-weather unloading. Although the building is slightly behind schedule, the dorm should be ready for use before the start of the spring semester.

Decade of Development

The new dormitory is part of a $10 million "Decade of Development" building program which has already added several modern buildings to the Harding campus. The New Men's Dormitory, which was the first all air-conditioned dorm on the campus, was completed last spring at a cost of $650,000. It has facilities for 210 boys.

One of the most needed parts of the building program, the $1 million Science Building, was completed late last spring.

Although still tentative, other plans for the "Decade of Development" include a Fine Arts Center to be located behind and including the Benson House and an addition to the library. More dormitory space for both men and women is also being considered.

The goal of the building program is to provide adequate housing and academic facilities for 2200 students within only a few years.

The construction of the New Men's Dormitory was handled by the college itself, as has been customary at Harding. However, due to federal regu-

Basses Back

Returning second basses are Darrell Chitty, Richard James, David Jones, Ken Tipton and Richard E. Wolfe.

Composing the new members are Judy Catterton, Lynette Lytton and Becky Remlinger, 1st sopranos; Connie Albert, Barbara Ann Cape, Dorlea Dowdy, Margie Powers and Judy Rhodes, 2nd sopranos; Kaye Jones is the only new 1st Alto. New 2nd altos include Mary Lou Austin, Elaine Samuel and Carolyn Wilson.

New first tenors are Charles Walton Davis, Chris Greene, Hank McDaniel and Sammy Peebles. New 2nd tenors are Wayne Burress, Larry Costlow, Roy Drewett, David Muncy and Rick Smith.

New first basses are Jim Dowdy and Clifton D. Roberts, while new second basses are Layton McCown, Harvey Rhodes and George Saunders.

The group is made up of 16 seniors, 19 juniors, 18 sophomores, 11 freshmen and one graduate.

BISON STAFF MEETING

Anyone interested in working on the Bison during the 1967-68 year should attend a staff meeting to be held in the Bison Editor's office Thursday, September 14, at 7:00 p.m.

No previous experience is necessary. The Bison Editor's office is located on the second floor of Ganus Student Center.

SA Movies Set

The SA has plans this year for several new and worthwhile movies to be presented each weekend on which there is no intercollegiate game or lyceum scheduled.

On Sept. 16 "Von Ryan's Express" is scheduled. "A Bad Day at Black Rock" is planned for Oct. 7 and on Oct. 14 "The Sons of Katie Elder" is scheduled.

The SA has recently purchased two new Bell and Howell movie projectors with Xenon lamps for the brightest possible projection for 16 mm projectors.

Fall Meeting Held

Emphasizing the theme "The Cross and Christ," Howard Horton conducted the annual fall meeting at the college church of Christ. During the eight-day meeting there were eight restorations and one baptism.

Mr. Horton is a graduate of both David Lipscomb College and Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn. He was an associate professor in religion at George Pepperdine College.

At present he is on leave of absence from his post as Dean of Students of Oklahoma Christian College. During his leave of absence, Mr. Horton has traveled extensively helping to strengthen Christian schools in foreign lands.

Summing up the fall meeting, Dr. L. C. Sears, one of the elders, said that Mr. Horton has displayed "a profound understanding of the basic principles of the Christian religion."

O'Neal Appoints Cabinet Members

Seven new members compose this year's Student Association Cabinet. President Mike O'Neal enlarged the cabinet from six to seven members by creating an office of entertainment.

Heading the newly created office of entertainment is senior Hank McDaniel. McDaniel is active in Campus Players and has participated in a USO tour.

Roger Lamb is the new Academic Chairman. Lamb, the only junior on the cabinet, is currently serving as President of the Arkansas Student National Educational Association.

Senior Bill Howard has been chosen Elections Chairman. Howard is president of Galaxy social club and was a representative to the Student Association in his junior year.

Serving as Movie Chairman this year is sophomore Roy Terry.

Senior Mike Frampton is Religious Chairman on the cabinet this year. Frampton serves as Business Manager of the Bison and is a part time minister.

Diane Holder, the fourth senior on the cabinet, has been selected to serve as Social Chairman.

By Doug McBride

"He is one of the biggest men I've ever known."

The speaker was Dr. James Atteberry, chairman of Harding's English Department. He was referring to Ray F. Chester, minister of the College Church of Christ from January of 1966 through August of 1967.

Ray Chester came to the Harding community after nine and one-half years as minister of the 16th and Decatur congregation in Washington, D. C. From the time he came until the last sermon he preached he exhibited the polish, the expert poise that made him appear what he really was — a professional.

After listening to him speak, one did not have to be told that Chester was a well-educated person. Having received his B.A. degree from Abilene Christian College, a M.A. from Eastern New Mexico University, and his B.D. from Wesley Seminary, Chester was well qualified to tackle a difficult college audience.

But despite his education, Chester had no feeling of superiority as an individual. He pointed out that many people thought him snobbish but that if he appeared this way, it was just "my personality." Basically, he said, "I'm shy."

Why Harding?

Chester chose Harding from among several offers because he wanted the chance to work with college students, "a very important segment of our population in number and future influence."

When Chester came to Harding he saw a need, a challenge in fact; a challenge, as he put it, "to communicate the faith in relevant terms so as it is seen as relating to the whole of life." This he did. His sermons applied, in the finest fashion, Christian principles and ideas to the present day situations. One could readily see that this man knew the problems of the world, of this nation, and of its troubled people.

Chester expressed uneasiness concerning the Vietnam situation. He felt "very uncomfortable" and added that he could not see much coming from this strife.

When he talked of the racial situation, one could tell that he truly felt the urgency of the problems. "We talk mostly in terms of riot control . . . failing to hear what these desperate people are trying to say."

Ray Chester understands people, their problems, their frustrations, their anxieties. He wants to help these troubled people. Often he has considered giving up preaching and taking a job as a social worker in the slums of the large U. S. cities where so many problems abound. Somehow one could see this man in context in the House of the Carpenter in Boston.

In talking personally with him, one finds that this man is real, he is human and he is interested in the feelings, the concerns, the problems, the ideas and the thoughts of others.

Chester left the college congregation to go to the Brentwood church in Austin, Tex. With him he took his wife Fern and his four children. Behind him he left a memory, a hope, a dream that someday all may see the need for Christian love and concern in solving the problems of the peoples of this world. Behind him, too, he left the idea that man should care for his fellow man.

Twenty-six New Teachers Added To Harding's Expanding Faculty

By Gary Cottrell

With the increased student enrollment this fall, Harding has also found it necessary to increase her faculty. In all, 26 new teachers have been acquired.

Elizabeth P. Dykes, M.A.L.S. (Texas Women's University) will be assistant librarian. New physical education teachers are Karyl Bailey, M.A. (Ohio State University), Barbara Barnes, B.A. (Harding College) and Jerry Mote, M.A.T. (Harding College). Mote will also be assistant football coach.

The mathematics department adds to its number Troy Blue, M.A. (George Peabody College) and James Penrod, M.S. (Tulane University).

New home economics teachers are Helen Minns, B.S. (Harding College) and Snow White, M.S. (Michigan State University).

Jere Yates, M.Th. (Harding Graduate School) will be instructor in Bible and religious education. He has also completed residence requirements for a D.R.E. from Boston University.

Additions in English

Additions to the English department are Gary Elliott, M.A.

(North Texas State University), William D. Hillin, Ph.D. (University of Iowa), Sherry Balthrop Organ, B.A. (Harding College) and Betty Thornton Ulrey, B.A. (Harding College).

The speech department is being strengthened by four new members. J. Harvey Dykes, M.A. (Wayne State University) has also completed residence requirements for his Ph.D. Robert E. Eubanks, M.A. (University of Arkansas), Thomas D. Reppart, M.A. (Central Michigan University) and Andrew F. Saunders, III, B.A. (Harding College) are other new speech teachers.

Burks and Merritt

David Burks, M.B.A. (University of Texas) and Norman Merritt, M.B.A. (Harvard University) will teach in the business administration department.

Other new teachers and their fields are: William Culp, B.A. (Harding College), sociology; Helen V. Freeman, Ed.D. (University of Arkansas), elementary education; Richard Indermill, M.A. (Pepperdine College), psychology; Dennis M. Organ, M.A. (University of Missouri), journalism; and Thomas Statom, M.A.T. (Harding College), history.

Coming to Harding to teach during the spring semester will be James Mackey, Ph.D. Candidate (University of Mississippi), physics and Ron K. Young, M.A. Candidate (University of Kentucky), political science.

Seminar Plans Set By Bible Dept.

C. W. Bradley will present "Preaching Christ in Metropolitan Areas" on Oct. 9-11 in the Bible Department's first seminar for preaching students. Bradley presently is the minister of the White Haven congregation in Memphis, Tenn., and during his 25 years of preaching has preached in mission areas of New York and South Carolina.

"The Preaching of Christ to all the World" will be Dr. George S. Benson's topic for the Jan. 3-4 seminar. Besides his tenure as president of Harding for 29 years, Dr. Benson served as a missionary in the Philippines and on the mainland of China for eleven years prior to World War II.

During March 18-20, Ruel Lemmons, editor of the Firm Foundation, will conduct a series of lectures on "The Relevance of Preaching Christ Today."

"World Missions" will be the theme of the final seminar, which will be held by Phil Elkins on April 29-May 1. Elkins is presently doing research on the mission efforts of churches of Christ for the doctorate at Hartford Theological Seminary.

Bisons Scrimmage A-State Indians

Drizzly overcast skies formed the background for the annual Harding-Arkansas State varsity scrimmage game Friday afternoon, which afforded fans their first look at the 1967 Bisons.

No score was kept for the encounter, the main objective being to test various offenses and defenses under game conditions. Coaches substituted liberally, switching offensive and defensive platoons each 15 minutes.

The scrimmage culminated a week of grueling two-a-day workouts for the 54 hopefuls. Weather, conflicts, injuries and a number of other factors combined to allow only two uninterrupted two-a-days and present a more ragged squad than would normally be shown.

Despite an extremely sloppy playing field, Harding coaches were able to pinpoint strong and weak points in their squad. The most prominent of the latter, according to head coach John Prock, is a replacement for defensive end Carl Carlson.

Carlson, a junior, started at the position last fall but has been moved to offensive end for this campaign. Prock indicated that he might go both ways until a replacement can be trained.

On the brighter side of the ledger, Prock expressed contentment with the younger players. "Our defensive halfbacks looked good," he noted, "and we had good pass blocking for (Don) Dixon and (Jerry) Copeland."

Intramurals Offer Excitement For Student Sporting Activists

By David Crouch

The beginning of another school year also marks the beginning of another year of intramural competition. The intramural program is still the heart of Harding's athletic program and intramural director Cecil Beck expects to have between 75-80 per cent of the men students participating this year.

This will be the 28th year for the program since it was reorganized in 1939 by M. E. "Pinky" Berryhill. When Berryhill came to Harding from David Lipscomb College only about four per cent of the student body was actively participating in intramural sports.

70% Participation

Under Berryhill's and Beck's guidance the program now serves nearly 70 per cent of the student body. For its year-round organization Harding is now recognized as having one of the finest intramural programs in the nation.

The theme of the program is "A Sport for Every Man and Every Man in a Sport." The activities are designed for both the beginner and the more experienced participant.

Intramural activity begins in the fall with softball and flag football and the climax comes with the annual Track and Field Day held in May. During the winter months basketball is in the spotlight, but the arrival of spring sees baseball become the chief sport. Additional variety and interest are found in other sport activities such as the cross-country race, the Australian pursuit race, volleyball, tennis and swimming.

Girls Too

The girls are not left out in Harding's intramural program which has a wide variety of events scheduled each year just for them. Girls may play softball in the fall months, volleyball and basketball during the winter and climax their year with swimming and track events in the spring.

To encourage more participation awards are given to outstanding intramural athletes at the close of each year. The Circle K Sportsmanship Award and being named Intramural Athlete of the Year or Sports Skill Champion are just a few of the many honors that intramural competitors may receive.

The fifteen men who have accumulated the most points in intramural competition are awarded letter jackets on Recognition Day. The man with the highest point total receives a trophy signifying his outstanding achievements in all the intramural sports. The top five girls are also awarded jackets.

To the club that has earned the greatest number of points goes the Sigma Tau All-Sports Trophy. These and many other awards add to the competitive spirit of the contests and the enthusiasm that is shared by both players and fans.

Now with Harding's rapidly increasing enrollment, its improved intercollegiate program, and an even bigger and better intramural program the only word to describe Harding's athletic program is "exciting."

Jr. Varsity Falls

In further action Saturday at Memphis, the junior varsity dropped a 13-0 decision to Southwestern College. All but 18 of the Harding football squad participated.

Halfback Ken Merritt, freshman from Searcy, provided the brightest spot for the locals as he rushed for 87 yards. Sophomore Jerry Copeland directed the Bison attack.

Bill Ivey, a starter at middle guard, suffered a knee injury and will likely be out for a week. Ivey is a junior from Memphis.

Lack of sharpness, caused in part by the strenuous scrimmage the day before, was cited as the main weakness of the Bisons. The junior varsity plays a six-game schedule.

Overland Team Has Big Turnout

By Larry Headley

What proved to be the biggest turnout of runners for Coach Virgil Lawyer's 1967 cross-country team has really become a welcomed blessing. With over twenty boys trying to fill positions on both a varsity and a junior varsity team, the strongest team in Harding history could be realized.

Boyle, Crawford

Runners Joe Boyle and Jim Crawford, both of which rank nationally in track, feel this could be the year for Harding's push to the top. Harding holds four AIC championship titles in only four years of participation. On the NAIA record books, Harding has finished as low as 17th last year in a meet which saw more schools and better competition and as high as seventh in 1965. This is in a nation-wide meet with over 430 schools present.

About this year, Lawyer explained that the teams could go as far as they would. The varsity will be representing Harding outside the state of Arkansas in big meets while the junior varsity will tackle upcoming strength in other AIC schools.

Although names are not placed in the varsity-junior varsity slots yet, Lawyer explained that many boys are only seconds apart and it was much too early to pick his two teams.

Lawyer: "Nothing Profound"

"I have nothing profound to say. Barring a lot of unexpected injuries we simply have the strongest teams in our history. I know they can do a great job."

Dick Shenfeld, plagued with injuries in the past, shows early signs of having his best year.

Griffin in Slow Start

Phil Griffin also has a lot of determination and past experience but is off to a late start in practice. Griffin in a few weeks should gain back his style and speed.

Craig Kesterson increases the depth of the varsity team with strong determination and fine team spirit.

Freshman Runners

Herb Bentancourt heads the list of fine freshmen and can be expected to be close to Boyle and Crawford. Other freshmen include Bradd Dobbs, Wes Moss, Eric Childress, Russ Saunders, Roger Wooley, Harry Nunn, George Saunders, David Hogg and Gene May.

Hyman Watson Lives Up to Name

By Jean Flippin

What's in a name? Plenty — that is, if someone who wears the name "Hyman" is over seven feet tall!

The most noticed newcomer to campus, freshman Hyman Watson, is also the most talked-about. In addition, he is the main reason for a frequent smile on the lips of Harding basketball coach Hugh Groover.

A native of Grand Bay, Ala., Watson is probably the first Bison cager to be granted a full athletic scholarship without having played a single quarter of competitive basketball. But when he measures 7' 13/4" in his bare feet, who can blame Groover?

More to Come

What's more, the teenager has not stopped growing. He will celebrate his twentieth birthday next week. In his case, the stratosphere could be the limit.

Harding football coach John Prock helped bring him to Searcy. "We met about three years ago," Watson explained, "and we've been corresponding ever since."

Hyman's parents are not exceptionally tall, his father being 6'3" and his mother 5'8". He has been taller than average all his life; he was even an extra-large baby.

The question logically comes of where he got his unusual first name. "My dad saw me after I was born," he related, "and the first thing he said was 'Hi, man!'"

Never Eye to Eye

Always the tallest member of his class, Watson has never met someone whom he can look straight in the eye. The closest to him has been three inches shorter. His girl friend is 5'4".

Major problems he has encountered as a "walking lookout tower" are crowding into Harding's normal-sized desks and finding beds long enough. He sleeps on two in the dorm.

Compact cars once were a barrier to him, but not since he mastered a Karmann Ghia for a couple of miles.

Chin-ups?

He ran into a snag during registration this fall. All entering freshmen had to take a physical fitness test, but he was unable to finish because the chinning bar came to just there on him.

He has already become indispensable in a sense to the team, because if he gets hurt, no one can fill his shoes. They are size 19 and cost $40 a pair.

One thing for sure: no opponent will mistake who he is!

Bisons Meet U of M (Rolla) in Opener

By Tom Simmons

An improved University of Missouri (Rolla Branch) team will provide the Harding Bisons competition Saturday afternoon in the opener for both grid squads.

Rolla's offense is built around passing and has been known as a passing ball club in the past few years. "We know they will be better this year," Harding head coach John Prock explained, "because last year they didn't start a single senior on offense and three of the back-field men were freshmen."

The Bisons are finished with two-a-day practices and according to Prock still need lots of work. "We had only two days of uninterrupted work last week where other clubs got a full week of two-a-days," stated Prock. "We are behind and the boys know it and are working hard to get ready."

Injuries have also plagued the team in opening drills. All-American tailback Jim Howard has been out of a few practices with a bruised leg. Phil New has been injured along with Carl Carlson. Bill Ivy has a hurt knee and Randy Delaet suffered a concussion in the scrimmage game, just to mention a few.

"We are going to have injuries. You just can't go very far in a season without them and we have already had quite a few," Prock stated. "The freshmen will have to be prepared to provide depth for the older boys."

Like every coach, Prock is reserved on what kind of a season he expects — even with a host of stars returning. "We can be stronger," he said, "and still not finish up there high in the conference. We don't have any weak sisters in the conference and there are going to be some real tough teams."

Rolla opens the lid off a new season and the Bisons need a victory to start things off on the right foot. Baring injuries, the Bisons should be prepared for the long haul over the season, that is, if they catch up on their assignments and work hard.
